The rigid bottles your company uses are more than likely ending up in the world's landfills. The StandUp pouch is the environmentally responsible replacement for rigid bottles, consuming only 40% of the plastic, and requiring just 1/8th of the space, freight, fuel and green house gasemissions of rigid bottles. As the costs of plastic, fuel, freight and disposal continue to increase along with the growing emphasis on environmental consciousness, it's time for your company to consider the benefits of the StandUp pouch.

Mid-Continent Packaging has been handling StandUp pouches for over a decade, providing blend/fill/packaging service across a wide range of industries, both liquid and dry. We have recently doubled our installed capacity to keep up with increasing demand for our services.

Please visit our web site at www.midcontinentpkg.com to learn more about the myriad of benefits pouches provide and how Mid-Continent Packaging can assist you in bringing your product to an increasingly concerned and sophisticated market.
